

The
Edwin Watts Chubb Library
OHIO UNIVERSITY
ATHENS, OHIO

Call No. 378.771

037t

v.7-8

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

The Ohio Alumnus

Volume VII

DECEMBER, 1929

No. 3

Published monthly during the school year by the Ohio University Alumni Association.
Member of American Alumni Council.

CLARK E. WILLIAMS, '21, Editor

TABLE OF CONTENTS

A Campus Beautiful — Snow Comes to Adorn Trees	2
A Pittsburgh Surgeon Holds Vice-Presidency	3
Coast & Geodetic Survey Officer Plots Curves	4
State Director Has Varied Responsibilities	4
Emeritus Professor of Philosophy a Contributor	5
From the Editor's Desk	6
On the Campus	8
Suggested Constitution for Local Alumni Chapters	10
Departments Take Graduates	10
Leaman L. Faris, Publicity Director	11
Bassler Is Auditor of Big Corporation	12
Super Scholarship Fund Is Ready	12
Athletics at Ohio University	13
De Alumnis	17
Marriages	21
Births	23
Deaths	23
Honor Roll of Paid Up Memberships	24

"Entered as second-class matter, October 3, 1923, at the post-office at Athens, Ohio, under the act of March 3, 1897."

Combined membership in the Ohio University Alumni Association and subscription to The Ohio Alumnus, $3.00 per year.

A CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL

Snow Comes to Adorn Trees in Rear of Ellis Hall

A Pittsburgh Surgeon Holds Vice-Presidency Of The Ohio University Alumni Association

In previous sketches interesting facts have been presented concerning the undergraduate and post-graduate activities of the president and the treasurer of the Ohio University Alumni Association.

This time we have before us the likeness and a portion of the record of Dr. Newman H. Bennett, '99, of Pittsburgh, Pa., whose office in the association is that of vice president.

Dr. Bennett was born in Ossett, Yorkshire, England, and came to the United States in February, 1893. In September, 1894, he entered the Preparatory department of Ohio University and graduated with the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1899, having lost one year on account of illness.

According to friends, Undergraduate Bennett's decided English accent was a source of considerable entertainment to fellow students, among whom he was exceedingly popular for his pleasant ways and modest manners. It is reported that he almost disrupted the class in Elocution once by pronouncing "up" as "hoop" in a stirring poem he was reciting. All "h's" were dropped and added English fashion, unconsciously, to the merriment of friends and, on one occasion at least, to his own embarrassment. He was a member of the Athenian Literary Society.

Possessed of a tenor voice of exceptional quality, Mr. Bennett was frequently called upon to display his vocal talent. During the last three years of his college days he held a position as tenor soloist at the First Presbyterian Church in Chillicothe, Ohio. In April, 1900, he was selected from among fifteen applicants for the position as tenor soloist at the North Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, a position which he held for fourteen years and one which he relinquished only because of professional duties. Dr. Bennett's musical contributions were delightful features of the Alumni Senior Convocation program of the 1929 Commencement.

After graduation in 1899 Mr. Bennett went to Pittsburgh where he entered the employment of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, remaining with the coal company until 1902. With the acquisition of sufficient funds in the latter year he enrolled in the Western Pennsylvania Medical College, now the University of Pittsburgh, and graduated in Medicine in 1906. An internship in the South Side Hospital immediately followed graduation.

One year after entering the hospital Dr. Bennett began private practice as assistant surgeon to Dr. James P. Kerr, a well-known Pittsburgh medico and chief surgeon at St. Joseph's Hospital. In 1910 Dr. Bennett became associated with St. Joseph's as a surgeon and later as obstetrician, positions which he holds at the present time.

Dr. Bennett is a member of the Pittsburgh Academy of Medicine, an honorary appointee, and also a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons of North America.

Other officers of the Alumni Association to whom attention will be directed in due season are the secretary-editor and the members of the Executive Committee, Dr. Hiram Roy Wilson, '96, Miss Mary Connett, '11, and Mr. Carr Liggett, '16.

The editor of The Ohio Alumnus will welcome for publication photographs of local chapter officers or chapter groups. Inasmuch as annual reunions are usually held during the winter months and, consequently, indoors, the taking of group pictures "on location" is rendered somewhat difficult. In the larger communities, however, photographic service for flash-light pictures is available at moderate rates.

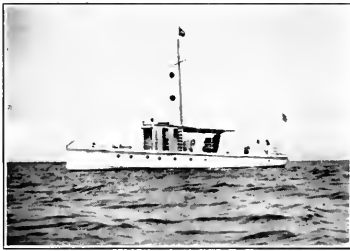

Vice President N. H. Bennett

Coast & Geodetic Survey Officer Plots Tidal Curves

Interesting in the extreme must have been the experiences of Karl B. Jeffers, '27, during the past year or so as an engineer with the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers (Harriett Kennedy, '27.) spent last winter at Fort Myers, Florida, where the former was assigned to the Survey's ship, "U. S. S. Hydrographer." Karl remained at Fort Myers until March 1, 1929, when he enjoyed a month's leave. The leave period was followed by a transfer to Washington, D. C., for service until June 1.

The Good Ship Mitchell

On May 24, Mr. Jeffers received a commission as Aid in the Coast Survey which is a rank corresponding to that of Ensign in the Navy.

From June 12 to August 15 Aid Jeffers had charge of the launch "Mitchell" and its party, working in Long Island Sound and its tributaries. The picture shows the "Mitchell" anchored in Boston Harbor "on Station No. 4." This launch party was one of four such groups engaged in making a current survey of coastal waters in the Long Island area. The boats were anchored on each "station" 25 hours to get a complete tidal current curve.*

From the middle of August to the middle of September the Hudson River from the north end of Manhattan to Troy, N. Y., was the field of operations. At the present time Karl is back in Washington, D. C., and subject to assignment anywhere at any time. Orders to report to an east coast ship are expected but an assignment to Alaskan waters is a possibility.

(*For the benefit of other "inlanders" who, like himself, have but little notion as to the work and function of Uncle Sam's Coast and Geodetic Survey, the editor quotes the following from his ever-handly Webster: "Geodesy: surveying that takes account of the curvature of the earth.")

State Director of Education Has Varied Responsibilities

If you are not sure of all the responsibilities of Dr. John LeRoy Clifton, '13, Director of Education, just commit the following to memory:

The Director of Education classifies and inspects the schools of Ohio.

He certifies teachers for schools all over the state.

He approves the content of courses of study.

He O. K's courses for the training of teachers.

He has charge of the distribution of the state equalization fund, commonly known as state aid.

He oversees the enforcement of school laws, particularly with reference to compulsory attendance, health instruction, opportunities for handicapped children, and vocational work in agriculture, home economics, and trades and industries.

He has authority over the state schools for the deaf and blind.

He is in charge of film censorship.

He is the general authority over the State Library.

He has various minor functions.

He is also ex-officio a member of the boards of trustees of the six state colleges.

He appoints one member of the boards of trustees of Bowling Green and of Kent State colleges, Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society, State Library, Vocational Education Board, Wilberforce University, and five members of the State Board of School Examiners.

In addition to these varied and various duties, Director Clifford is a married man and is the father of three children.

Starting out in life as a rural teacher, Dr. Clifton next became a village superintendent of schools. After nine years in superintendencies, he became assistant in the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Later he donned the "professorial" robes which he wore at Ohio State University for twelve years and then two years ago he became Director of Education for the State of Ohio.

Ruth Jones, '29, is holding a position as instructor in Physical Education in West Tech Junior High School, Cleveland.

Emeritus Professor of Philosophy Is Again A Contributor to Columns of The Ohio Alumnus

Maryland Hotel,
Daytona Beach, Fla.

Dear Clark:

While I am again in Florida and in what is said to be her most beautiful town, a statement which I can well believe, and that at the beginning of what I hope may prove a pleasant stay of some months concerning which I may write occasionally later, I would like this time to write briefly concerning books.

Professor Treudley

Visiting a library recently an old man remarked to me what would such as we do without books, to which in my heart I replied, amen, and again amen.

Some months ago I listened to Emil Ludwig. I was unable to make out anything he said on account of his difficult English but having read his "Napoleon," "Bismarck," "The Kaiser," "Goethe," and the "Son of Man," what a writer I said. Great books are the product of great intellects. Whatever such a man touches he adorns. The first two of that series are masterful. That on the Kaiser seemed to me like a fire operating upon a great mound of dry rubbish. The one on Goethe seemed to me not to admit, by reason of Goethe's character, a full expression of Ludwig's genius and in the latter book I thought he fell clear down. No study of our Lord can satisfy unless it be deeply reverential. The life and character of Deity can not be approached as one would that of men.

I greatly refreshed myself lately in the reading of a book by Streeter entitled "Reality." It has passed through more than one edition but I have scarcely read a book of late better calculated to strengthen faith by the wide opening up of grand pathways centering and culminating in the being of God and his relationships to men. I commend another book, one by Haldane entitled, "The Reign of Relativity." If it required some concentration of mind nevertheless it is readable and will yield a rare fruitage to him who perseveres, for Lord Haldane was one of the rarest spirits of England. There are former students of mine and many others who, I believe, are anxious to grow in character but may find it difficult to sustain their courage and faith amidst the murky atmosphere generated by modern life. If so let them read Josiah Royce's course of lectures to which I listened entitled "Loyalty" and note how the souls of men can and will grow through pure and courageous devotion to what he called the "Beloved Community." They will witness here the wonderful play of a great mind upon a great subject. Then to this let them add another study of the same general character by the editor of the Hibbert Journal, L. P. Jacks, a book entitled "Constructive Citizenship." In these four last-named books the teacher of social themes as well as the preacher of religion will find material sufficient for numberless lectures or addresses.

Finally, the most distinguished and suggestive book, stimulating in every way, which I have read in recent years are two volumes of studies by Dean Inge on Plotinus. If this age so superficial in its discussions, needs anything it needs a study of religion and reality when subjected to an analytical and also a synthetic mind such as was possessed by Plotinus. And when the guide is of the genius of one like the gloomy dean of England, the guide telling those who read the results of studies of more than a score of years, he will find at last a place where he can plant his feet and stand.

As ever,

J. Treudley.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

ELSEWHERE appears a suggested constitution for local chapters of the Ohio University Alumni Association. There are at present twenty-eight such organizations most of which are functioning satisfactorily. Each year the members of these chapters gather for highly enjoyable programs on the occasion of their annual reunions. This year it is the hope of association officers that there will be a number of new chapters formed and that one or two of the heretofore dormant clubs may be re-vitalized. The Alumni Secretary is ready and willing to cooperate with any group that is interested in effecting a local organization. Wherever there are ten or more alumni there should be an alumni chapter. Dozens of communities in Ohio and a comparatively large number outside the state are Ohio University centers of some numerical strength and should be represented by an organization bearing the name and promoting the interests of Ohio University.

More Chapters and More Interest Desired

DEEPLY rooted in many minds is an idea of the complete incompatibility of scholastic and athletic proficiency. Increasingly widespread, apparently, does this idea become when athletes are successful in their athletics. With no intention to construct a case for the wearer of either the Phi Beta Kappa key or the varsity letter the editor cites the following example merely to assuage the minds of those who deplore the development of intercollegiate athletics and fear that their growth is altogether at the expense of worthier academic ends.

*Athletic Activity
vs. Scholarship*

This fall a certain campus group was represented on the varsity football squad by seven of its members, three of whom were named on the mythical All-Buckeye and All-Ohio honor teams. Of these seven graders six had scholastic averages in the last available report considerably surpassing the general average for men in the university, while the seventh man equalled the general score. The name of one of these is to be found in the list of the twenty highest graders in school. The group to which these athletes belong has been so "adversely" affected, scholastically, by its athletes that for each of the past five semesters it has "only" succeeded in copping first honors in competition with fourteen other similar groups.

Yes, we must admit that the record referred to is an unusually fine one but it is not so exceptional or so unexpected at Ohio University as to be breath taking.

NUMEROUS have been the requests of readers of The Ohio Alumnus for additional epistolary contributions from the pen of Frederick Treudley, Ohio University's emeritus professor of Philosophy. In compliance with these requests which, accompanied by a personal plea, were transmitted by the editor directly to the writer himself, the well-beloved professor has agreed to give us an occasional, informal letter for publication. As a result, the first letter of what we hope will be a series of communications from Professor Treudley, appears in this issue.

Prof. Treudley Joins Editorial Staff Again

Professor and Mrs. Treudley are spending the winter in Florida and for the next few months will receive mail in care of General Delivery, Daytona Beach. Known to and knowing thousands of Green and White alumni, and having opportunities now for more or less extensive travel, this former faculty man professes great delight in meeting and renewing acquaintance with those whom he once taught in the classroom. If the Ohioans who are residing in the Daytona Beach area will make known their locations to Professor Treudley, extending to him an invitation to call, the editor is sure that they will lay themselves open to receiving a visit from one of the kindest, sprightliest, and most congenial guests they have ever had the privilege of entertaining.

OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY athletic officials "found it . . . impossible" to schedule Ohio University for a football game after having Bobcat officials hold a date open for them until Saturday (December 7). This comes as a distinct surprise to many football fans in Southeastern Ohio, who had pinned hopes on rumors that the announcement for the 1930 game was to be issued from Ohio State headquarters. Sunday was looked forward to as the day when the announcement was to be made, but hopes for effecting athletic relations between the two schools were shattered with an adverse announcement.

Ohio State "Walks Out" on Game

Why Ohio State officials found it impossible to schedule Ohio University affords speculation. Ohio University athletic officials are not a lot imbued with superfluous optimism which might lead them to believe that they could beat Ohio State in football any time anywhere. In attempting to schedule the Scarlet and Gray eleven they hoped to bring about an important athletic rivalry between two major state institutions. The hand was extended by Ohio, but graciously declined by Ohio State.

The genteel gesture on the part of Ohio State should spur Ohio University to greater football ambitions, even though it does not have the resources for the development that major schools possess. Although the Buckeye Conference has been steadily rising in power, it has been weakened with the withdrawal of Wittenberg. With prestige gained, the responsibility for improving the conference naturally rests with the leading institution. — The Athens Messenger.

A MAN who can merely read and write can get along fairly well in this machine age. Why all the struggle to get an education? Those who happened to have business around the telegraph offices about Christmas time no doubt noticed the pamphlets containing "suggested forms for holiday greetings messages." If the customers could count up to sixteen, all he needed to do was to order by number, and the operator would send "My heart is with you at this glad season of the year" (6); or "May all happiness be yours not only at Christmas but forever" (2). There are also pamphlets on the counters telling you how to "cheer by telegraph." If the basketball team of good old Siwash is having a critical game, "send a telegram. It will be delivered and read in the dressing room in a few minutes . . ." "Joe Moscovitz is behind you, rooting for victory," reads one of the ready-made messages. "Fight with everything you have," etc., etc. Order by number.

Sets of memorial chimes are now available with paper rolls. . . . There are radio sets that don't even have to be tuned in. Most movies can be understood by people with a mental age of ten years or less. Ready-cut little ship models for mantels, with all the pieces carefully numbered, can be tapped together about as readily by the dullard as by the cum laude A. M. . . .

A college education develops a man's mind, helps him to make the most of himself, teaches him to enjoy his lot in life—whatever it is.

And that is argument enough in favor of a college education.—The Princeton Alumni Weekly.

IN EVERY city between the two oceans are men and women who, though not members of any profession, have in passing through some college acquired an interest in scholarly things, and use their time of leisure for carrying this interest on. They are known as cultivated persons, caring for much besides money-making. Centers of civilization we may call them, to whom their communities look for leadership in all idealistic matters.

Most of Us Are Among These

They become trustees of libraries, museums, galleries, schools. They plan and support organizations for the protection of the poor and feeble-minded. They watch over the beauty of their town, guarding its trees and parks from neglect and encroachment. They are honored with the hate of the local politicians, and when that corrupt tribe becomes intolerable these dreamers organize and secure a brief decency. All my readers will recognize this public-minded class and will feel that its influence, while auxiliary to what is best among the lawyers, doctors, teachers, and ministers, differs from that and is perhaps more pervasive. They are our true aristocrats, keeping our precious democracy wholesome.—Prof. George Herbert Palmer, Harvard.

ON THE CAMPUS

"Kings For a Day"

Henry Ford, John D. Rockefeller, and Herbert Hoover can all command private railroad coaches whenever necessity or convenience dictates but it is doubtful if either of these well-known figures gets the thrill from the experience that 40 Ohio University students will likely feel when they board their "private ear" for a trip home to New York state for the Christmas holidays.

These students, whose homes are in Brooklyn, New York City, and nearby points in New Jersey, have chartered a special car for their own use which will be picked up by the fast Baltimore and Ohio train leaving Athens at 1:14 P. M. December 20.

By making this arrangement with the railroad company the individual round trip fare will be reduced to $33.70, or $20.00 less than the regular rate. Gerald Epps, Brooklyn, N. Y., is acting as manager for the group.

Salute the New Sponsor

On the opposite page you behold a picture of the Ohio University Band's new and comely sponsor, Miss Elinore Orton, Dayton, Ohio, a sophomore, and Andy Mandula, Cleveland, Ohio, a junior, tall and dignified drum major.

Miss Orton was chosen from among 19 candidates in an election participated in by the student body. Her initial public appearance was made at the Ohio-Wittenberg game on November 22.

Members of the band have presented their sponsor with flowers and with a silver loving cup in tribute to her beauty and charming personality.

The band's ceremony in publicly presenting Sponsor Orton is well recorded in the motion pictures which are available for exhibition at alumni meetings.

Library Plans to Be Presented

Members of the Buildings and Grounds Committee of the Board of Trustees of the university will meet December 21 to approve plans for a new library.

Architects with whom the committee will confer represent the firm of Howell and Thomas, Cleveland, and the state architect, of Columbus.

Authorization by the Board of Trustees has already been given the committee to approve the plans as presented, or after making any changes which may be necessary. Construction will begin next spring. The cost will be $350,000.

Comedians Announce New Show

The Ohio University Comedians, men's musical comedy organization, has announced that its 1930 production will bear the title "Sunshine Inn."

According to the director, Prof. Harold Evans, "Sunshine Inn" will be staged in an expressionistic revue manner, with a variety of swiftly moving scenes including the "hokum" moments of "Hello Happiness" and the elaborate settings characterizing "Dawn o' Day," past comedies.

It's Now Cutler Court, Please

A proposal to name the portion of the campus at the rear of Cutler Hall and upon which stand the Napoleon Willow and the Class of 1911 Drinking Fountain, "Cutler Court" has recently been made by Torch.

The suggestion, according to members of this men's honorary fraternity, has as its object a desire to make more prominent the name of the "Father of Ohio University" and to give a designation to the ground adjacent to Cutler Hall, so that it may later have some traditional significance.

Five Men "Tapped" for Torch

At a special "Honors Day" convocation held in Alumni Memorial Auditorium, December 4, five seniors were "tapped" for Torch, men's honorary fraternity at Ohio University. The men elected to membership in the organization were: John Brammer, Marietta; James Patterson, Roselle, N. J.; Charles Etsinger, Bucyrus; Donald Dowd, Philadelphia, Pa., and Carl Slack, McKeesport, Pa.

At this convocation, too, announcement was made by the Men's Union of the scholastic ratings of the various social and professional fraternity groups for the semester which ended in June, 1929. The ratings of the 20 highest-ranking individuals (men) for the same period were also given.

Of the individuals, Lawrence P. Eblin, Middleport, Ohio, won the honors with 15 hours of straight A work. Eblin is a major in Chemistry. A few others in the order of their scholastic attainment are: Frank Danello, Jersey Shore, Pa.; Griffith Graham, Bartlett, Ohio; Charles A. Priode, Charleston, W. Va.; Everette Shimp, Basil, Ohio; Howard R. Gray, Rainelle, W. Va.; Norvall Green, Martinsville, Ill., and Glenn A. Cole, Niles, Ohio.

Scholarship cups were presented by Glenn A. Cole, president of the Men's Union, to Theta Chi (social) and Omega Beta Pi, pre-medical, (professional). A gold medal was the award to Mr. Eblin. Theta Chi fraternity has stood highest at Ohio University five different semesters, four of which have been consecutive.

Theta Chi "Comes Through" Again

Following is a report of the scholastic standing of the active chapters of the social fraternities at Ohio University issued from the office of the dean of Men on data from the office of the Registrar.

Theta Chi, 1.576; Phi Kappa Tau, 1.367; Chi Sigma Chi, 1.352; Sigma Pi, 1.349; Phi Upsilon, 1.333; Tau Sigma Delta, 1.306; Beta Theta Pi, 1.303; Gamma Gamma Gamma, 1.297; Delta Tau Delta, 1.237; Phi Kappa, 1.234; Alpha Delta Beta, 1.177; Lambda Chi Alpha, 1.165; Phi Delta Theta, 1.125; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 1.067; Sigma Delta Rho, 1.061.

The average of fraternity men was 1.211; the non-fraternity average, 1.313; and the all-university (men) average, 1.265. The highest possible rating is 3.000, or "A".

The order and averages of the pledge groups of the above fraternities are: Delta Tau Delta, 1.761; Sigma Pi, 1.241; Phi Kappa, 1.114; Phi Epsilon, 1.096; Alpha Delta Beta, 1.091; Lambda Chi Alpha, 1.061; Beta Theta Pi, 1.060; Phi Delta Theta, 1.000; Chi Sigma Chi, .969; Tau Sigma Delta, .953; Theta Chi, .918; Phi Kappa Tau, .897; Tau Kappa Epsilon, .824; Gamma Gamma Gamma, .655; Sigma Delta Rho, .504.

Delta Kappa Stands Highest

Delta Kappa, local sorority, formerly Theta Sigma Upsilon, stood first in the list of scholastic averages for the 17 social sororities recently issued by the dean of Women. The record covered work done in the second semester of last year. Delta Kappa's average was 1.929, or nearly B. The average for all women in the university was 1.450.

Standing of the active chapters were as follows: Delta Kappa, 1.929; Pi Delta Theta, 1.864; Alpha Delta Theta, 1.828; Chi Omega, 1.663; Pi Beta Phi, 1.650; Theta Upsilon, 1.627; Theta Phi Alpha, 1.617; Phi Mu, 1.564; Zeta Tau Alpha, 1.562; Alpha Xi Delta, 1.561; Alpha Gamma Delta, 1.536; Lambda Omega, 1.472; Pi Kappa Sigma, 1.440; Alpha Delta Pi, 1.441; Sigma Sigma Sigma, 1.338; Delta Sigma Epsilon, 1.303; Alpha Sigma Alpha, 1.262. Non-fraternity rating 1.425.

The relative standings of the pledge chapters, with their averages, were as follows: Alpha Delta Theta, 1.289; Chi Omega, 1.288; Phi Mu, 1.215; Sigma Sigma Sigma, 1.119; Lambda Omega, 1.083; Theta Upsilon, 1.064; Zeta Tau Alpha, 1.057; Alpha Xi Delta, 1.050; Pi Kappa Sigma, 1.021; Alpha Gamma Delta, 1.000; Alpha Delta Pi, 1.000; Alpha Sigma Alpha, .925; Delta Sigma Epsilon, .813; Pi Delta Theta, .783; Theta Phi Alpha, .461.

Elinore Orton and Andy Mandula

Engineers Construct Television Set

"Football games of the future will be visible as well as audible from a comfortable fireside chair, if the advancement of television is as rapid as that of radio has been," predicts Prof. Darrell B. Green, in charge of radio instruction at Ohio University.

"We have obtained very satisfactory results on a television set built in the electrical engineering laboratories last year," continued Professor Green. "By using a good receiver and a neon tube many pictures could be seen and recognized. The disc is an important part of the outfit. The holes in it had to be very accurately drilled. Prof. Neil D. Thomas deserves the credit for that job."

Suggested Constitution for Local Alumni Chapters

ARTICLE I

Name

This association shall be known as the Chapter of the Ohio University Alumni Association.

ARTICLE II

Membership

Any former student of Ohio University living within a natural area having (city) as its center shall be deemed a member of this Chapter.

ARTICLE III

Purpose

The purpose of this Chapter shall be to encourage good fellowship among the alumni of the university; to co-operate with the university administration in the furtherance of its program of educational activity; to assist the Alumni Secretary and the alumni organization in those matters connected with the alumni; and to uphold the traditions and policies of the university by directing worthy students thither and by such other means as lie within the power of the Chapter.

ARTICLE IV

Officers

Section 1. The officers of this Club shall be a President, a Vice President, a Secretary-Treasurer and a Correspondent.

Section 2. The officers of this Club and a representative from each resident class shall constitute the Executive Committee.

Section 3. All vacancies occurring during the year shall be filled by the executive committee of the Chapter. Such appointment to run until the next annual election of officers for the Club.

Section 4. Each officer shall have such powers and duties as usually appertain to similar officers in other organizations and shall hold office until his successor is elected or appointed.

Section 5. The correspondent shall act as reporter of local alumni activities for The Ohio Alumnus. At least once each month prior to the publication of The Alumnus, he shall send in information concerning marriages, changes in business, changes in address, and deaths among the Ohio alumni, and such other matters as may be of interest. He shall keep an up-to-date list of the membership of this Chapter.

ARTICLE V

Meetings

Section 6. The President shall appoint the following standing committees: (1) Membership Committee, (2) Entertainment Committee, (3) Committee on New Students; and such other committees as may be necessary.

An annual winter meeting shall be held at which the election of officers for the ensuing year shall be held. A spring meeting and such other meetings as may be necessary may be held at the call of the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE VI

Amendments

Amendments may be made at a regular meeting of the Club and must receive a majority vote of the members present.

Departments Take Graduates

Ohio University graduates not mentioned last month in the list of members newly added to the faculty but who are serving as departmental assistants or as secretaries are as follows:

Lec Stewart Roach, '29, assistant in Biology; Mrs. Starke Hathaway (Virginia Riddle, '28,) assistant in Psychology; Mrs. Leah Featherston, '22, assistant in English; Grace Alexander, '28, assistant in English; Bertram Renkenberger, '24, assistant in Modern Languages; B. E. Workman, '27, assistant in Psychology; Doris Young, '29, secretary to the Director of the School of Physical Education; Katherine Van Hamm, '29, secretary in the Bureau of Appointments, and Constance Andrews, '29, secretary to the Dean, College of Liberal Arts.

Earl Keek, '28, and Bernice Prochaska, '28, should have been credited with instructorships in Biology and Sociology, respectively, in the November article

Californians To Meet

Members of the Los Angeles alumni chapter will hold their annual mid-winter meeting during the Christmas holidays. Information as to the exact date and place has not come to the Alumni Office.

Samuel O. Welday, '12, of Santa Barbara, is president of the chapter while Fred S. Pickering, '12, Huntington Beach, is secretary of the group.

Leaman L. Faris Chosen as Director of Publicity Bureau

Ohio University now has what many of its friends have long desired for it—a full-time publicity director.

In calling Leaman L. Faris, '27, to the campus this fall as head of the Ohio University News Bureau, President Bryan not only gave recognition to a legitimate and desirable institutional activity but provided a man in every way qualified to direct that activity.

Leaman L. Faris

Possessed of news sense to the *n*th degree, Director Faris has within the past few months prepared his "copy" in so professional a way and has made personal contacts in so many editorial sanctums that most of the 110 daily newspapers on his steadily growing mailing list are not only accepting his regular broadcasts but writing and wiring for additional "feature stuff."

Mr. Faris graduated from Ohio University in 1927 with the A. B. degree and a major in Journalism. During two of his undergraduate years he was a member of the editorial staff of the Athens Messenger. For one year he was managing editor of the Green and White. As a campus reporter he was credited by the coaches with an adeptness at reporting athletic contests unsurpassed by any other student scribe.

After graduation Mr. Faris went to Lima, Ohio, to become associated with the Lima News. During a connection of some 18 months' duration he served his paper at successive times as sports, city, and state editor.

While at Lima he married Miss Norma Mitchell, a young newspaper woman and an alumna of Ohio Northern University.

Early in the present year Mr. Faris joined the staff of the Scioto Gazette in Chillicothe, Ohio, where he was located when summoned to his Alma Mater.

Included among his activities are a regular periodic broadcast of news items to over a hundred leading daily newspapers in Ohio, adjacent states, and a number of cities such as New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, etc.; preparation and dissemination of "personal" stories concerning university students for the use of home-town papers; maintenance of a picture and "cut" service for newspapers and other publications; and some lecturing in the department of Journalism.

The University News Bureau is located on the second floor of East Wing, near the Alumni Office, where Mr. Faris will be glad to receive his friends and to co-operate with any who seek his services or his materials.

Governor Cooper to Speak

Founders' Day at Ohio University, February 18, 1930, will be appropriately observed with a program presented in Alumni Memorial Auditorium featuring an address by Governor Myers Y. Cooper.

Unlike the observances of this day in recent years there will be no radio broadcasting of a university program this year. The broadcasting fee of $400 per hour plus the hotel and transportation expenses of the "talent" make it impossible for the Alumni Association to consider putting its annual program "on the air."

Dr. Theron H. Morgan, '22-ex, graduated last June from George Washington University Medical School, Washington, D. C., was hotel physician at Eagles' Mere, Pa., during the past summer.

Bassler Is Auditor of Big Aircraft Corporation

Among the foremost of Ohio University's representatives in the rubber industry in Akron, Ohio, is C. J. Bassler, auditor of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation.

Mr. Bassler completed the two-year course in commerce at Ohio University in 1913 and later graduated from Baldwin Wallace College with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. He was subsequently admitted to the Ohio Bar but never practiced.

C. J. Bassler

In 1913 Mr. Bassler became associated with the Goodyear Tire &

Rubber Company as a clerk in the Cost Accounting department. In 1924 he became a member of the comptroller's staff, doing special work, auditing and systematizing, a position which carried with it a great deal of traveling for about three years.

In 1928 the Goodyear Export Organization claimed his services and this fall he returned from a little over a year and a half in Europe in the interest of that branch of the big rubber company. His principal work in Europe consisted in systematizing the accounting operations of the Goodyear branches and subsidiaries in France, Spain, Morocco, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, and Germany.

Mr. Bassler was called back to the States in October, 1929, to become auditor of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation. This new company was formed for the fabrication and assembly of two giant dirigibles for the United States Navy, the contract price of which was $8,000,000. The corporation is also engaged in the manufacture of other smaller aircraft.

It was plans for the hangar in which the navy dirigibles are being constructed upon which Fred L. Plummer, '20, was last year engaged.

The Goodyear company built many dirigibles and kite balloons during the World War, a period in which their interest was first engaged in the manufacture of airships and aircraft in general. Mr. Bassler was connected with this work in war days and it is probable that that fact accounts for his recall from the export division in Europe to assume his present position.

Super Scholarship Fund Is Ready For Administration

Honoring Dr. Charles W. Super, former president of Ohio University, a number of members of the Alumni Association have contributed $2,500 for the endowment of a prize, to be known as the Super Prize.

A first prize of $100 and a second prize of $50, the sums to be realized by investing the original endowment in the state treasury, will be given annually.

Only members of the junior and senior classes shall be eligible for these prizes, according to the terms governing the presentation of the awards.

In recognition of the development of the department of classical languages by Dr. Super, who was for many years the head of this division of the College of Liberal Arts, first consideration, in determining the receiver of awards will be given to students of Greek language and literature.

The extent and quality of the student's work in such courses will be factors, and these may be supplemented by consideration of any work the student has done in related courses which is mentioned in detail in the prize terms.

Second consideration will be given to those students excelling in the amount and quality of their work in the languages as a whole.

The committee having the awards in charge will consist of the chairman of the department of Classical Languages, and dean of the College of Liberal Arts, according to the regulations. These two may select a third member. In case the future organization of the university should make obsolete any of the terms here used, the President of the University will have power to appoint that committee, it is explained.

The names of the nearly one hundred contributors to the Super Prize Fund have previously been published in The Ohio Alumnus. Most active of those interested in the creation of the endowment fund has been Miss Anna Pearl MacVay, '92, secretary-treasurer, of New York City.

ATHLETICS AT OHIO UNIVERSITY

Bobcats End Preliminary Training Schedule With a Fifty-Fifty Record. Defeat at Hands of Ohio State Is Only by Closest Margin

An aggressive Bobcat basketball team began where the football team left off and won the first game of the preliminary training season, defeating Bliss College, of Columbus, 48 to 27, December 11, on Ohio's floor.

This was the first of a series of six games which was to be ended with three victories and three defeats, but with a vast amount of experience upon which Coach Grover feels certain his proteges will capitalize in the regular Buckeye season.

Bliss

Root, a sophomore, in his first varsity competition, garnered 14 points for Ohio during a highly successful evening at center. (In later games he went to a forward position while Captain Brammer assumed his old station at center.)

Sixteen out of Ohio's 23 attempts at the basket in the first half were made good. Koterba followed Root closely with 11 points while Brammer placed third with 10.

Illness prevented Guard Swackhamer from getting into the line-up in this game, as well as in all others to date, and thus deprived Ohio of the services of a stellar defensive player.

Ohio State

A spirited rally by the Ohio State University team in the second half of the game, December 14, in the big Coliseum at Columbus, gave the Scarlet and Gray a 26 to 24 victory.

Playing the Big Ten team on practically even terms throughout the game, the Grover-men failed to produce the final punch needed to cop the contest. The Bobcats were ahead by one point with only six minutes to play when State forged into the lead and "froze" the ball for the remainder of the time.

The Green and White appeared to advantage against the Scarlet and Gray according to Columbus papers. One sports writer said that "basketball followers will go a long way before finding a classier basketball team in a school Ohio University's size."

Captain Brammer and Koterba, for Ohio, and Evans, for Ohio State, shared big-scoring honors in the game with nine points credited to each. Warshower and Root also contributed points to Ohio's total score. Offensively Koterba seemed to be the most dangerous man on either team.

Warshower, Root, Koterba, Brammer, Trace, Lockman, and Hart were the players used by Coach Grover in this game.

Buffalo

A determined squad of Bobcats, smarting from the 26-24 setback, left Columbus immediately after the Ohio State game for a visit to the Empire State and games with the University of Buffalo, Syracuse University, and the Elmira Athletic Club.

It may have been a case of too much train ride but whatever the reason the Bobcats found themselves unable to cope with the style of play adopted by the University of Buffalo team on December 16 and, although they played creditably, were defeated 41-23.

Head Cheer-Leader Query

The Bisons are reported to have one of the fastest teams in the East and insofar as the Bobcats are concerned they are willing to believe the report.

Ohio's Koterba was the individual scorer of the evening, registering five field goals and a trio of free throws for a total of thirteen points.

Syracuse

The Orange of Syracuse University rushed Ohio's Green and White off its feet the following night to win by practically the same score as that accumulated by Buffalo, 41 to 25.

The Ohioans staged a rally in the second half that netted ten consecutive points but the period of acceleration did not come soon enough nor last long enough.

Ray Hart led the scoring for Ohio in this game with Brammer and Koterba next in line.

Elmira

Victory perched at last on the Ohio standard when, on December 18, the Grovermen defeated the Elmira Athletic Club, 41 to 22. The Bobcat lead was never seriously threatened in this game.

Trace added flash to the contest with his lightning-speed dribbles down the floor to give the ball to Koterba who chalked up seven of Ohio's 12 field goals. Kepler, one of the Bobcat football aces, broke into the game to come out second high scorer with seven points.

Bliss

Once again did the Grovermen taste victory and this time, again, at the discomfiture of Bliss College, in Columbus. The week's training tour was concluded with a 40 to 27 win.

The small Y. M. C. A. floor seriously hampered the Bobcats but not to the extent of making the final result doubtful. Superior pass work aided the Cats and a shooting spree led by Big Bill Root rolled up the points.

The regular season opens January 11 in Ohio Gym with a clash between the Bobcats and the Ohio Wesleyan Bishops.

The recent withdrawal of Wittenberg from Buckeye Conference ranks does not effect the B. A. A. basketball schedules for the current season. As will be noted elsewhere the Bobcats have two meetings with the Lutherans, the first at Springfield, January 17, and the second on the home floor, February 19.

Baseball schedules next spring will be the first to miss the name of the Springfield school.

"Beany" Trace and Captain Brammer, who are expected to be mainstays of Bobcat Court Team

VARSITY SQUAD HAS PHYSICAL STRENGTH AND FLOOR ABILITY

Prospects in basketball at Ohio University this season are more promising than in several years. This is true for two reasons: First, the first-string squad is larger and second, the players are of greater size and weight than in many former seasons. This year, however, with increased size and offensive strength, as well as fortification in numbers, the team should go places and do things.

The Bobcats have only missed a tie in the Buckeye Association for first and second place by an aggregate margin of 13 points in the last two years. Last year four important games were lost by a total margin of only nine points.

Captain John "Red" Brammer, Marietta; Nolan Swackhamer, Laurelville; Eugene "Beany" Trace, Zanesville; Charles "Chuck" Koterba, Columbus; Ray Hart, Marietta; and Jerry Warshower are the letter-men and veterans of last year's team. Most promising of the sophomore material are Bill Root, Columbus; George Lockman, Hamilton; Russell Kepler, Wellington, and Holmes Beckwith, Parkersburg, W. Va.

In Brammer, Trace, and Root, Coach Grover has three first-class centers who are interchangeable in that position and forward or guard berths as well. At this stage of the season it is impossible to predict a definite line-up. Koterba will doubtless remain permanently at one of the forwards but all other positions will likely be "subject to change without notice" although most of the players mentioned above will see service in nearly every game.

THE 1930 BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

The varsity basketball schedule for 1930 is as follows:

- Jan. 11—Ohio Wesleyan, at Athens.
- Jan. 14—Miami, at Athens.
- Jan. 17—Wittenberg, at Springfield.
- Jan. 22—Muskingum, at Athens.
- Jan. 23—Marietta, at Marietta.
- Jan. 25—Cincinnati, at Cincinnati.
- Feb. 1—West Liberty, at Athens.
- Feb. 8—Miami, at Oxford.
- Feb. 11—Ohio Wesleyan, at Delaware.
- Feb. 13—Muskingum, at New Concord.
- Feb. 15—Denison, at Athens.
- Feb. 19—Wittenberg, at Athens.
- Feb. 22—Cincinnati, at Athens.
- Feb. 25—Marietta, at Athens.

GRIDIRON SCHEDULE FOR 1930 IS ANNOUNCED BY BIRD

A complete gridiron schedule for 1930 has been announced by Athletic Director Bird. While it does not, as many had hoped, contain the names of nationally-known teams, so-reputed, it is a strong card and one which will thoroughly test next year's football machine.

After being practically assured of an early season date on the schedule of Ohio State University and after holding the place open until all of the "big" teams had their schedules definitely arranged the Ohio athletic officials were shocked to be informed that Ohio State had "found it impossible" to include the Bobcats among their opponents for next year.

Desperate last-minute efforts were then made to line up a feature game but in every case the officials approached were either booked full or were loath to send their teams against the fast-stepping Bobcats.

Overtures were made to at least a dozen outstanding schools, among them Iowa, Illinois, Navy, and Notre Dame. All were answered negatively, regrets being expressed, however, that open dates were not learned sooner. The University of Wisconsin, turned down several weeks previously in favor of the game with Ohio State (which was proposed by Ohio State officials), was communicated with again after the Ohio State "walk-out" but too late. Georgetown, in Kentucky, and St. Xavier, were other teams with which negotiations were started at too late a date.

The 1930 schedule lists two new opponents in Butler and Wilmington, four traditional B. A. A. games, two games with leading Ohio Conference teams, and the annual early season battle with West Liberty of West Virginia.

Ohio will resume football relations with Western Reserve next year when the Clevelanders are met on their own gridiron, Oct. 18. Muskingum, this year's Ohio Conference champions, whom the Bobcats defeated 59 to 0, will come to Athens next fall for a return game.

- The high spot of the season will be the annual game with Ohio Wesleyan on Nov. 28, the last contest of the year. The game will be played at Delaware. The schedule:
- Sept. 27—Wilmington, at Athens.
- Oct. 4—Butler, at Indianapolis.
- Oct. 11—West Liberty, at Athens.
- Oct. 25—Miami, at Oxford.
- Nov. 1—Cincinnati, at Athens.
- Nov. 8—Denison, at Athens.
- Nov. 15—Muskingum, at Athens.
- Nov. 22—Ohio Wesleyan, at Delaware.

DYNAMIC BOB ZUPPKE GIVESADDRESS AT BANQUET

Philosophizing "Bob" Zuppke, coach of seven Western Conference championship football teams in 17 years at the University of Illinois and mentor of Coach Don Peden in the latter's college days, was the principal speaker at the football banquet given December 16 by the Athens Lodge of Elks in honor of Ohio's Bobcat champions.

Coach Zuppke spoke in terse, choppy sentences filled with clever epigrams and sparkling wit to the huge and evident delight of an audience of 175 persons. Serious moments were interspersed with those in lighter vein during which the visitor expounded bits of his philosophy of life and his ideas regarding athletic programs.

Other speakers were Grant P. Ward, representing the sports writers of Ohio; Dr. F. A. Lambert, a national authority on football rules; Robert S. Wood, former Ohio coach; Prof. O. C. Bird, director of athletics; Coach Peden, and Major S. M. Johnson, who introduced the toastmaster, Russell W. Finsterwald, '19, also a former football coach at Ohio University.

Following the speeches, the team and other guests enjoyed the first public showing of three reels of motion pictures of the Bobcats in action during the three home games this fall.

An excellent chicken dinner was by no means the least satisfying of the many good things provided by the Elks for their guests.

NATIONAL AND STATEWIDERECOGNITION GIVEN GRIDDERS

More and More national recognition in a football way is being received by the championship Ohio University Bobcats.

In the New York Telegram's selection of all-American material, under the heading, "Aces Get Honorable Mention for All-American U. S. Eleven," are listed five Bobcat grid-ders.

Mention is made of Ray Singer as a quarterback, "Chick" Young, fullback, Russell Kepler, halfback, John Brammer, end, and James Papritan, guard.

Throughout the state of Ohio the Bobcat line-up furnished material for numerous "all" teams.

The all-Ohio squads selected by Jack Vincent, International News Service sports writer, includes four Ohio University players on the first team and two on the second. Papritan, Griffiths, tackle, Brammer, and Kepler were Vincent's choices for the first string, with Singer and Young on the second; while Cramer, end, Hastings, tackle, Brown, center; Hart and Gabriel, halfbacks; were given honorable mention at their respective positions.

On Vincent's all-Buckeye first team the Bobcats appear as in his all-Ohio and in addition he places Young at halfback.

Two linemen and two backfield men of the Buckeye Champs were named on the official all-Buckeye team selected by the coaches of the Buckeye schools). Ohio Wesleyan's Bishops, runners-up, were also represented by four men. The Ohioans were Hastings, Papritan, Kepler, and Young.

The Bobcats placed four men on the second team (official Buckeye) and secured one honorable mention. Votes were so widely scattered and the margin of decision so close that in many cases the second team selections carry with them as much prestige as the first. This was true of Griffith and Brammer, Ohio's tackle and end, who could justifiably have been placed on the first team. The Bobcats on the second team were Brammer, Griffith, Chrisman, guard, and Singer. Brown received the honorable mention.

FRESHMAN CAGE PROSPECTS

In the 47 men reporting for freshman basketball, Don Peden, who handles the yearling cage men, feels that he has much good material. All of the men have had considerable high school experience in the floor game and are fairly well grounded in the fundamentals.

It is believed that the polishing off that comes under varsity tutelage and a proper emphasis on team-work will bring leading members of this aggregation quickly up to varsity standard and that several of them will find berths on next year's team.

The list of names and homes of freshman basket-eers is too long for reproduction here.

WRESTLERS HARD AT WORK

Ohio's 1930 wrestling team is rapidly developing under the direction of Coach Thor Olson. Craft and Burke are the men who will form the nucleus of the squad which will represent the Green and White on the mat this winter. A number of football men are seeking places on the team and bid fair to provide the keenest sort of competition for opponents.

In addition to B. A. A. teams, Michigan State, West Virginia, Indiana, Marshall, and Kent State College have places on the Ohio schedule. Other matches will also be arranged.

DE ALUMNIS

1879

After several months of traveling and visiting about over the country Emma K. Dana, '79, has returned to Los Angeles, Calif., where she will be located during the winter. Miss Dana is a retired high school teacher, having served many years in the Cleveland schools.

1886

After a month's visit in Athens with her brother, Dr. Herbert R. McVay, '90, and other relatives, Mrs. L. M. Gillilan (Lizzie McVay, '86) of Salt Lake City, Utah, has traveled eastward for visits with her son-in-law and daughter, Charles T. Eakin, '15, and Mrs. Eakin (Ruth Gillilan, '16-ex.) in Pittsburgh; her son, Lewis Gillilan, in Summit, N. J.; her sister, Dr. Anna Pearl MacVay, '92, in New York City, and her son and daughter-in-law, Paul M. Gillilan, '15, and Mrs. Gillilan (Mary Evans, '13,) in Schenectady, N. Y.

Mr. L. M. Gillilan, '91, is director of the part-time schools of Salt Lake City. Both he and Mrs. Gillilan are graduates of Ohio University and all of their children have attended their Alma Mater. At the present time Miss Lois Gillilan, their first grandchild of college age, is enrolled in Ohio University. Miss Gillilan is a resident of Lindley Hall, a dormitory named for one of her ancestors, Jacob Lindley, first president of Ohio University.

1893

Ever mindful of the interests and welfare of his constituents, Dr. Samuel K. Mardis, '93, Athens, member of the Ohio state legislature, has initiated a scheme for the dredging and straightening the channel of the Hocking River in order to reduce the hazard of floods and the consequent damage when floods occur. He has thus far been able to enlist the aid of state engineers and proposes to present the proposition to the people of his district.

1896

In another column there appears a notice of the death of Mrs. Sella Fowler Schwefel, wife of a former pastor of the Athens Presbyterian Church and mother of an "Ohio University family." Mrs. Schwefel was closely connected with the life of the university and was loved and honored by all the students attending through the eighties and nineties.

Three daughters survive, all of whom were students of Ohio University. They are: Mrs. Clyde Brown (Caroline Schwefel, '96), New York City; Mrs. Ellis Ames Ballard (Nina Schwefel), Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Irving W. Fay (Elizabeth Schwefel), New York City. Another daughter, now dead, who also attended the university and whose lovely voice is still remembered by those who heard it over thirty years ago, is Mrs. Charles M. Valodin (Mary Schwefel).

1897

O. D. Dailey, '97-ex, and Mrs. Dailey (Jennie Dowd, '13), of Albany, Ohio, have motored to Los Angeles, Calif., where they will spend the winter.

1902

George H. Lapp, '02, is a solicitor and service man in Columbus, Ohio, for the Stark Brothers Nurseries & Orchards Co., "oldest and largest" company of its kind in the world. Ohioans in the central section of the state should give Alumnus Lapp a call when in need of landscaping advice or materials. He is located at 911 N. Fourth St., Columbus.

(No charge for the advertising, Mr. Lapp.—Editor.)

1906

Mary B. Treudley, '06, is an instructor in Economics and Sociology at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass. Miss Treudley is a daughter of Frederick Treudley, Ohio University's emeritus professor of Philosophy and Ethics.

1907

At the December 11 meeting of the Nelsonville, Ohio, Chamber of Commerce C. E. Bennett, '07, 2-yr., was re-elected president of that body. At the same meeting Laurence D. Keller, '22, associated with his father in the Columbus, Ohio, firm of Harry A. Keller and Company, certified public accountants, was the guest speaker and discussed the importance of accounting in business.

1909

Says Evelyn L. Adams, '09, in an effort to cheer up the Alumni Secretary, "It must be some task, being official bag holder for a whole university with a roll the length of ours. Do you even get sympathy?" Yes, oh, yes. Lots of sympathy, Miss Adams, but it's the shekels we need worse than the condolences. Miss Adams, principal of Washington School in Selma, Calif., is one of those dear friends who always reinforces encouraging words with a bit of the coin of the realm. Would that all were like her. Miss Adams received the M. A. degree at the University of Southern California last June. She is a sister of President Karl L. Adams, '09, of the Northern Illinois State Teachers College, at De Kalb.

1910

Apologies are due Dr. John J. Richeson, '10, and Marjorie F. Cover, '29, 2-yr., officers of the Mahoning Valley alumni chapter, for the absence, until this issue, of their names from the association directory which is to be found on the inside cover pages of The Ohio Alumnus. Dr. Richeson, superintendent of the Youngstown, Ohio, schools, is president of the chapter while Miss Cover, a Campbell, Ohio, teacher, is secretary of the group. The names of A. D. Kemp, '20, and Sara Pittenger, '22, have erroneously appeared as officers in the directory. Mr. Kemp and Miss Pittenger are past officers.

Lillian M. Hauschildt, '10, 2-yr., for several years teacher of music at Tippecanoe City, is now supervising music in Roosevelt High School, Dayton, Ohio.

1911

Through Delma V. Elson, '11, instructor in History, Woodrow Wilson Junior High School, Youngstown, Ohio, has come word of the death, June 26, 1929, of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Winfred P. Elson, of Rosedale, L. I., N. Y.

1912

Esther M. Taylor, '12, 2-yr., formerly of McArthur, Ohio, but for the past year or two of West Asheville, N. C., is again a student at Ohio University, enrolled in the College of Education.

It will be interesting to the friends of Callie K. Walls, '12, Woodward (Cincinnati) High School instructor, to know that her Cincinnati Civic Song has not only been widely adopted in its own city but was used at the G. A. R. Encampment in Portland, Me., and was sung over the radio on Armistice Day.

1913

After a period of graduate work at the University of Chicago, Harold H. Shively, '13, has severed his connection with the faculty of Ohio State University to become associate director, Division of Distribution, of the Babson Statistical Organization, Babson Park, Mass.

1914

James E. McNaughten, '14, for several years a teacher in the schools of South Webster, is this year teaching in the high school at West Carrollton, Ohio.

Fred Lee Tom, '14, 2-yr., U. S. mail transport contractor, of Athens, has recently announced plans for the erection of a three story brick building on President street (opposite Super Hall and immediately west of Science Hall) in which he will provide for 30 rooms for men students, a restaurant, a barber shop, and recreation rooms. He plans to start work early in the spring.

1915

Annis West, '15, 2-yr., is an associate instructor in Costume Design at the Pennsylvania Museum School of Industrial Arts, in Philadelphia. She has previously taught in the schools of Huntington, W. Va., for a number of years.

1916

Congratulations, Doctor Ewers. Lela A. Ewers, '16, a member of the faculty of Ohio State University in the Department of Zoology, received the Ph.D. degree from the big Columbus institution in August, 1929. Again we say, congratulations, Miss Ewers.

Although occupied chiefly at home, Mrs. Frances McAuslan Johnston, '16, finds about eight hours each week to devote to instruction in physical education and basketball coaching for girls in the Alexandria, Ohio, high school. Mrs. Johnston witnessed Ohio's routing of the Denison Baptists at Granville this fall and reported the result to be altogether pleasing.

1917

Harry R. Wilson, '17, manager of the Cleveland office of the Educators Association, and Mrs. Wilson (Elsie Richards, '14), are spending the winter in the South but do not wish to lose contact with affairs at their Alma Mater. They have requested that The Ohio Alumnus be forwarded to them during their absence from Cleveland. The Educators Association has offices in 24 of the leading cities of the United States.

Louise Ebersbach, '17, was this fall elected to the position of assistant director of the Bureau of Appointments at the College of Wooster, at Wooster, Ohio. Miss Ebersbach received the M. A. degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1928 and has done graduate work at Columbia. While at Pitt, Miss Ebersbach was an assistant to the Dean of Women.

Harold C. Mardis, '17, is principal of three high schools in Lincoln, Nebraska, one of which is attended by more than 3,000 students.

Principal Mardis went to Lincoln this fall from Hendersonville, N. C., where he had been associated with the public schools. While in North Carolina he made a statewide reputation for himself by working out a model curriculum for high school work. He was given free reign in his experimental work by the state department of education.

1918

Boyd E. Francisco, '18, engaged in the general contracting business in Toledo, Ohio, has made his annual migration to the southland. He expects to spend the months of December and January in Miami, Florida.

1919

Lieut. Clarence Barnhill, '19-ex, of the army air service, is now stationed at Cleveland. During the past summer he flew to Athens in a $40,000 "ship" which had just been turned over to the government by a California manufacturer. Clarence served in Italy during the World War and was one of the American fliers selected to assist in the attempt to bomb Berlin, an enterprise forestalled by the Armistice.

Mrs. Dan F. Anderson (Jennette Coen, '19,) is living in Oxford, Ohio, where she is hostess at the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house, Miami University. Mrs. Anderson's husband died May 25, 1929.

1920

Miles H. Cagg, '20 Who can give any information as to his whereabouts? An old friend and roommate, Prof. C. Lee Shilliday, '12, University of Arkansas, is seeking his address and the Alumni Office is unable to supply it. The last address recorded for Mr. Cagg in the alumni files was Alma, Mich., where he was in 1925 a member of the faculty of Alma College. Who knows where the missing gentleman can be found?

1921

Communications directed to Ernest M. Ratcliff, '21, can no longer properly be sent to Gillespieville since Uncle Sam's P. O. Department has re-designated the community as Londonderry, Ohio. Ernest's time and attention are given chiefly to the Ratcliff General Store.

Guinevere Smith, '21, 2-yr., whose home is in Canal Winchester, Ohio, is a teacher in the schools of Grandview Heights, Columbus.

1922

Fred H. Sands, '22, assistant cashier of the Bank of Athens, N. B. A., attended a special six weeks' session held at the Harvard School of Business Administration this summer for business executives. Young John Coolidge, of

New Haven, Conn., was also a Harvard attendant for the session and roomed only a few doors from Banker Sands.

Arthur Oakman, former voice student under Frances Hatch, '22, at Graceland College, Lamon, Iowa, has been announced winner of the statewide Atwater Kent radio auditions and was presented with a gold medal by Governor Hammil, of Iowa. Miss Hatch is at present enrolled in Ohio University where she is completing work for the Bachelor of Music degree.

From the managership of a F. W. Woolworth store in Lancaster, Clarence L. Grow, '22, has gone to Steubenville, Ohio, in a similar capacity.

1923

John Jay Gossard, '23, is an instructor and coach in the Community High School, Wood River, Ill.

Directing two senior plays, and teaching four classes in senior English, and one class in Public Speaking is the program mapped out for Jennie Polley, '23, in her new position in East High School, Youngstown, Ohio.

Glen S. Jones, '23, and Mrs. Jones (Sara Long, '24,) both members of the faculty of the high school at Proctorville, Ohio, were enrolled in the University of Illinois during the past summer where they engaged in work leading to masters' degrees. Mr. Jones is principal of the Proctorville school.

Dr. Walter L. Cruise, '23, Zanesville, Ohio, physician, now gets his news more or less direct from the campus through a brother, Harold Cruise, who is enrolled as a freshman in Ohio University.

Gladys Parrett, '24, and Marjory Wisheart, '23, are teaching in the city schools of Kent, Ohio, and under arrangement with Kent State College are supervising critics.

Varelia L. Hollett, '24, is engaged in year 'round work as a cataloger in the Cleveland Public Library.

Martha Jane is the name of the daughter born this fall to Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Floto (Esther Vorhees, '24,) of Steubenville, Ohio. The announcement in the November Alumnus was lacking in information as to the name of the little miss.

When, at the end of the year, the editor awards his "Nobel Prize" for helpful reporting and co-operation the name of Mrs. C. K. Sanborn, Jr., (Philomela Paine, '24,) of Pelham, N. Y., will certainly come in for consideration. She has recently reported visits, during the past summer, from Amber Cross, '25; Mildred Miller, '25, 2-yr.; Mary Taylor, '25,

2-yr.; Mrs. J. T. Knox (Nadine Seibert, '23, 2-yr.), and Mrs. Richard Eaton (Margaret McCown, '24). "Phil" is certain that she can now qualify as an expert guide in New York City.

In addition to the above news Mrs. Sanborn writes, "Teaching school still holds me, and I advise anyone looking for a fine job in the teaching line to apply at Pelham. Our schools are really private country day schools with French taught from Kindergarten up—curhythmics, also; and as fine a staff of doctors as can be found, with a trained nurse and dental hygienist for each building. This year, too, we have a Child Guidance Bureau with a psychiatrist of national repute at its head, also a psychologist and visiting teacher. A wonderful system."

1925

G. H. Gustafson, '25, is located in Alliance, Ohio, where he is an auditor with the Utilities Service Co.

Carl F. Stockdale, '25, is this year teaching history and coaching football, basketball, and baseball at Central State Teachers College, Stevens Point, Wis. He received the M. A. degree from Columbia University in 1928.

Lloyd L. Antle, '25, is now connected with the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, Ky., and is a national examiner of the Federal Farm Loan Association. He was at one time an instructor in Money and Banking at Georgia Tech, in Atlanta.

1926

Clarence S. Bolen, '26, is associated, in the Publicity Department, with the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., in Atlanta, Ga., Clarence is a former editor of the Green and White.

Theodore H. Wingett, '26, a one-time teacher in the high school of Gallup, New Mexico, is now an instructor in the Ohio Military Institute, Cincinnati.

Leroy Slusser, '26, has left the principalship of the Harlem Township High School, Delaware County, to teach Science in the city schools of Delaware.

Andrew C. Nelson, '26, underwent an operation for the removal of his appendix, November 27, in the Mountain State Hospital, Charleston, W. Va. Contrary to all usual opinions Andrew reports the operation to have been a pleasant experience and only regrets that the attendant and enforced vacation is going to be so brief. After the eighth day he even proposed to challenge Trauer Thor Olsson to a wrestling bout.

1927

Rachael Hopkins, '27, former Art Supervisor in the West Liberty (W. Va.) State Normal School, took up work on December 1 as a supervisor in the Youngstown, Ohio, schools.

Margaret Duncan, '27, former critic teacher in the State Normal School, Erie, Pa., is a teacher in the Ohio State University Demonstration Activity School in Columbus. Miss Duncan is at the same time pursuing graduate work at O. S. U.

Dr. Clarence N. Sanders, '27, graduate of the Ohio State University Medical School last June received word in July of success in the state medical examination and is now serving as an interne in St. Francis Hospital, Columbus, Ohio.

Edgar P. Gilmore, '27, is associated with the F. & R. Lazarus & Co., leading department store in Columbus, Ohio, and is connected with the Research Department.

After an extended hospital confinement resulting from severe burns on the face and eyes, O. E. Hill, '27, returned to his work on December 9. Mr. Hill is superintendent of the Muhlenberg Township Schools at Wilhamsport, Ohio.

1928

There will surely have to be a lot of "sweets" passed up if all of the tobacco that Willis "Bid" Edmund, '28, reports as being bought up in his city of Danville, Va., is consumed. "Bid" says, "I came here (Danville) from Alexandria last spring to be Director of City Recreation and Physical and Health Education. Pioneering with the work on a big scale and enjoying it. This city has the reputation of being the biggest leaf tobacco market in the world, and I believe it after living here this market season. Believe this or not but to date, since October 1 (letter written November 18), approximately 25,000,000 lbs. of leaf tobacco has been bought in local warehouses and the market is about half over." With the co-operation of the city water and fire departments of Danville Willis introduced a novel and successful system of street showers for the kiddies last summer.

Harold E. Kurtz, '28, is instructor in Science and Geography and faculty manager of athletics in the high school of his home city, New Philadelphia, Ohio.

Emily Nixon, '28, is teaching Romance Languages in the high school at Washington C. H., Ohio.

Dorothy L. Drake, '28, has written of the pleasure derived from a visit during the Thanksgiving recess to her sister, Mrs. James A. Hester (Betty Drake, '29,) in Hamilton, Ont., Canada. Peace Bridge, at Buffalo, N. Y., Niagara Falls, and the extraordinarily uniformed policeman of Hamilton, were some of the things found to be of striking interest. Miss Drake is a teacher in the North Canton, Ohio, schools.

Franklin A. Kreager, '28, office manager of the Ada., Okla., branch of the Hazel-Atlas Glass Co., was a member of the team which installed a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi (professional commerce fraternity) at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla., December 4. On December 7 he accompanied Karl D. Reyer of Ohio State University, former member of the faculty of the Ohio University School of Commerce, to Baton Rouge, La., where another chapter of the national fraternity was installed.

Harley E. Barnhill, '28, assistant manager of the F. W. Woolworth store in Athens, was one of five Woolworth assistants in Ohio chosen to assist in the opening this fall of the newest and largest Woolworth store in Columbus.

1929

Piano selections by Ann Schellenger, '29, Jackson, Ohio, were featured in the initial program at the opening of the new radio station, WSAZ, at Huntington, W. Va., November 20. Miss Schellenger received the Bachelor of Music degree from her Alma Mater.

Ralph J. Zahour, popular president of the Class of 1929 and drum major of the band in his junior and senior years, is this year pursuing graduate work in Economics at the University of Cincinnati. In addition to his recitations Ralph frequently comes into the classroom to teach a course in labor problems and to conduct quizzes as a departmental assistant.

Ralph Zahour

Emerson S. "Vic" Sherow, '29, former sports editor of the Green and White and the Athens Messenger, is telegraph editor and assistant sports editor of the Poughkeepsie (N. Y.) Evening Star. Vic lives in Millbrook, N. Y., and during the past summer enjoyed calls from J. Russell Marple, '29, now of Bedford, Mass.; Harold G. Krass, '28, who is enrolled in New York University, and Harold Moore, former member of the Ohio University faculty in the Department of Journalism.

Louise Kerr, '29, is supervising music in the public schools of Pomeroy, Ohio.

Mary Stalder, '29, is a student in New York City this year in the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts. She is specializing in interior decorating.

After three years in the schools of Niles, Ohio, Martha E. Whipple, '29, is this year teaching first grade in the Onaway School, Shaker Heights, Cleveland.

Immediately following commencement last June Lewis Terven, '29, and Fred Radford, '32, left Athens on a "hiking" trip with Western objectives. About two months ago Terven and Radford separated in Wyoming, the former going on to the Pacific coast and the latter remaining in Wyoming where he worked on a large ranch. Lewis's present address is not a matter of record in the Alumni Office.

MARRIAGES

TOM-THOMPSON—Miss Beulah Tom, '26, New Concord, Ohio, to Mr. John H. Thompson, Columbus, Ohio, June 21, 1929. Mrs. Thompson was a Physical Ed major at Ohio University and for two years after graduation was an instructor in Physical Education in the high schools of Kent, Ohio. Mr. Thompson attended Ohio State University and is at present employed with his father in the Thompson Electric Co. At home: 42 W. Blake Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

BOLLERER-DUPLER—Before an altar banked with palms, ferns, and white roses and with other floral decorations to carry out a color scheme of green and white Miss Alma Bollerer and Mr. Homer Dupler, '24, both of Newark, Ohio, were united in marriage in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, June 3, 1929. Irl Fisher, '23, Mansfield, Ohio, served the groom as best man. Mr. Dupler is secretary of the Lions Club of his city and is associated, as advertising manager, with the Newark Trust Company. He is also a charter member and former officer of the Newark Chapter of the Ohio University Alumni Association.

GREGG-ADAMS—Miss Ada Gregg, '24, Waverly, Ohio, to Mr. Harold Adams, Columbus, Ohio, December 4, 1929. Mrs. Adams has been an instructor in Home Economics at Galion, Ohio. At home: 775 E. Broad St., Columbus.

LEACH-KING—Miss Carolyn Leach to Mr. A. Dunkle King, '28, both of Wellston, Ohio, Nov. 27, 1929, at the home of Mr. Harold Coe, and Mrs. Coe (Katharine Goff, '24-ex), Athens. Mr. King is proprietor of King's Dry Goods Store. At home: East A Street, Wellston.

ZINCKE-McCAUSLIN — Miss Frances E. Zinke, '26, 2-yr., Bucyrus, Ohio, to Mr. George O. McCauslan, Nov. 21, 1929. The bride has been a teacher in the schools of Lakewood, Ohio. The groom is a graduate of Beloit College, Wisconsin. At home: Lakewood, Ohio.

NEWLAND-SHOEMAKER—Miss Helen Newland, Lakewood, Ohio, to Mr. Edgar W. Shoemaker, '26, Athens, Nov. 16, 1929. Mrs. Shoemaker is secretary to the vice president of the Rayon Industrial Corporation, Lakewood, while her husband has held a position as auditor of the same concern for the past two years. At home: 17011 Madison Ave., Lakewood.

REGAL-HARR—Miss Ethel Regal, '27, Elyria, Ohio, to Mr. Edward C. Harr, June 29, 1929. Mrs. Harr is supervisor of music in the Lorain County schools. At home: 320 Columbia Ave., Elyria.

WAGNER-DRUMM—Miss Mildred O. Wagner, '26, Waterford, Ohio, to Mr. Joseph R. Drumm, Aug. 5, 1929. Mrs. Drumm has been a teacher in the Parkersburg, W. Va., public schools. At home: (Alumni Office has no information as yet.)

CARTLEDGE-LITTLER — Miss Mary Wilma Cartledge, '28-ex, Steubenville, Ohio, to Mr. Clarence Littler, '28-ex, Athens, July 13, 1929. The bride was a junior at Ohio University when she discontinued her work while the groom had sophomore rank. The former had taught in the schools of her home city for a period of two and one-half years. Mr. Littler is associated with his father in the Littler Bakery. At home: 14 Palmer St., Athens, Ohio.

MILLER-NYE—Miss Eva L. Miller, '25, Marietta, to Mr. Earl L. Nye, '27, Athens, Oct. 5, 1929. Mrs. Nye was a major in Home Economics and for three years engaged in cooking school demonstration work covering a wide range of territory throughout the country. Mr. Nye holds a managerial position with the Tappan Stove Company, in Windsor, Conn. At home: 53 Bloomfield Ave., Windsor.

PEOPLES-CLAPP—Miss Helen F. Peoples, '26, Athens, to Mr. Milo Ford Clapp, Cleveland, Ohio, July 6, 1929. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Clapp had taught in Rosslyn, Va., and engaged in personnel work at Pogue's in Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Clapp, who attended Dartmouth College, is manager of the Warren-Onex Paint Co., in Columbus, Ohio. At home: 1441 W. Third Ave., Columbus.

CRAFT-HEADLEY—Miss Frances Ruth Craft, Punxsutawney, Pa., to Mr. Alva A. Headley, '24, Chauncey, Ohio. The wedding was an event of last June. Mr. Headley is employed in Punxsutawney with Whiteman and Co. At home: 216 North Penn St., Punxsutawney.

MORGAN-REILLY—Miss Glenora Morgan, '24, 2-yr., Jackson, Ohio, to Mr. Emerson Reilly, Iowa City, Iowa, July 6, 1929. Mrs. Reilly is a former music teacher in the schools of Athens and Jackson counties. Mr. Reilly holds a position with the Midland Life Insurance Co. At home: 3004 Indianola Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

MCGRANER-MORRIS—Miss Mary McGraner, '26, to Mr. E. J. Morris, '26, both of Athens, Aug. 17, 1929. Mrs. Morris has continued her work as instructor in Home Economics in Marietta (Ohio) High School. Mr. Morris is an instructor-coach in the high school at Buchtel, Ohio. At home: After June 1, 1930, Athens.

HARTLEY-KEYNES—Miss Lucille Hartley, '29, Nelsonville, Ohio, to Mr. Robert W. Keynes, Logan, Ohio, Aug. 14, 1929. Mr. Keynes is a graduate of Ohio State University and is associated with his father in the grain milling business. At home: Logan.

MULLIGAN-HULS—Miss Jennie Mulligan, '23, Athens, to Mr. Karl Huls, Rockbridge, Ohio, Aug. 23, 1929. Mrs. Huls is a teacher in the schools of Rockbridge and a former teacher in Cleveland. Mr. Huls is at present enrolled in Ohio University.

NELSON-BETTS—Miss Philena Nelson to Mr. Ralph W. Betts, '29, both of Nelsonville, Ohio, Oct. 5, 1929. Mr. Betts is a high school instructor in Ashtabula, Ohio.

PEARSON-DUDLEY—Miss Dorothy Pearson, '30-ex, Junction City, Ohio, to Mr. Emmer M. Dudley, '28, Zanesville, Ohio, in May, 1929. Mr. Dudley is assistant credit manager of the Pittsburgh branch of the Goodrich Rubber Co. At home: 420 N. Craig St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

CROSSAN-WAGNER—Miss Corynne Crossan, '23, Zanesville, Ohio, to Mr. E. C. Wagner, New Lexington, Ohio, June 15, 1929. Mr. Wagner is prosecuting attorney of Perry County and is a graduate of Ohio State University. At home: New Lexington.

BINDERBASIN-WILLIAMS — Miss Elizabeth Binderbasin to Mr. Reese E. Williams, '12, 2-yr., both of Gloucester, Ohio, June 19, 1929.

Mr. Williams is associated with his father in the operation of several stores and at present is managing the Williams store in Middleport, Ohio. At home: Middleport.

SHIPLETT-CLARK—Mrs. John T. Shiplett (Susan Putnam, '13, 2-yr.), Cleveland, Ohio, to Mr. William H. Clark, Washington, N. J., June 22, 1929. Mrs. Clark, formerly of Athens, was for many years a teacher in the Cleveland schools. Her first husband died in November, 1926. Mr. Clark was an officer in the United Army Air Service during the World War and at Charleston, S. C., organized the first air school in the South. He is associated with the Curtiss Airplane Corporation as a district representative. At home: 1220 N. State St., Chicago.

BIRTHS

SHILT—In an exceedingly clever form announcement has been received of the arrival of Betty Jane, Nov. 13, 1929, in the home of Mr. Noble C. Shilt, '21, and Mrs. Shilt, Washington, D. C. Mr. Shilt is associated with a leading investment concern in the national capital and is secretary of the Washington Chapter of the Alumni Association.

WILLIAMS—To Mr. Roger F. Williams, '29, and Mrs. Williams (Elizabeth Hackworth, '29, 2-yr.), Atwater, Ohio, a son Eric Einar, Nov. 28, 1929, (Thanksgiving Day). Mr. Williams is an instructor and coach in the Lynchburg, Ohio, high school.

SHARP—To Mr. Edward Sharp, '27-ex, and Mrs. Sharp (Angella Woods, '27), Athens, a son, Thomas Edward, Nov. 27, 1929. "Ed" is an instructor-coach in the Junior department of Athens High School, and city playground supervisor in the summer time.

BUCKMASTER—To Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacNeill Buckmaster (Frances Foster, '22-ex). Kenosha, Wis., a son, Robert Bruce, Nov. 25, 1929. Mrs. Buckmaster attended Ohio University for two years but took her degree from George Washington University. Mr. Buckmaster is connected with the Nash Motor Co. Robert Bruce is a grandson of former Congressman and present Commissioner I. M. Foster, '95, of the United States Court of Claims.

WHITE—To Mr. Ralph H. "Gus" White, '20-ex, and Mrs. White (Margaret Spencer, 23-ex), Athens, a son, Ralph Spencer (another baseball player for Don Peden), Dec. 6, 1929.

Gus is manager of the Athens branch of The Bennett Co. (ice cream and dairy products).

WHITACRE—To Dr. Asia H. Whitacre, '22, and Mrs. Whitacre (Lena Mae Sams, '21), Washington, D. C., a daughter, Mary Lois, Nov. 30, 1929. Dr. Whitacre graduated in medicine at Ohio State University and is now serving an internship in Walter Reed (government) Hospital, Washington.

LONG—To Rev. James A. Long, '11, and Mrs. Long (Bessie Nye, '11-ex.) a son, George William, June 26, 1929. Rev. Long is pastor of the North Park Church of Christ, Indianapolis, Ind.

THOMAS—To Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thomas (Faye Lash, '16, 2-yr.), Youngstown, Ohio, a son, Robert Lash, July 1, 1929.

ROWAN—To Mr. and Mrs. George Rowan (Grace Addis, '25), Athens, a son, Charles Joseph, July 4, 1929.

LAUTERBUR—To E. J. Lauterbur, '21-ex, and Mrs. Lauterbur, Sidney, Ohio, a son, Paul C., May 6, 1929. Mr. Lauterbur is factory manager of the Peerless Bread Machine Co.

MACKEY—To Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mackey (Gertrude Clevenger, '26), Detroit, Mich., a daughter, Marjorie Jean, Feb. 10, 1928.

CUMMINS—To Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cummins (Louise Rannells, '24), Springfield, Ohio, a daughter, Carolyn Jane, April 15, 1929.

DEATHS

WILSON—Word was received November 28, 1929, of the death of Col. Harrison Wilson, '61-ex, Civil War veteran and former circuit judge, at his home in Ojai, Calif. Col. Wilson entered the Civil War as a private in Co. I, 25th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and by successive promotions attained the rank of colonel.

WOODWORTH—Mr. Robert L. Woodworth, '04, 2-yr., died at his home in Athens, Nov. 29, 1929, from complications resulting from self-inflicted bullet wounds. Mr. Woodworth had been in ill mental health for some months. He was for years a prominent business man in Athens and retired two years ago from a position as assistant cashier of the Athens National Bank, a bank with which he had been connected for about fifteen years.

BROWN—From Mrs. Horace P. Robinson (Marie Dodds, '14, 2-yr.,) we have word of the death, April 9, 1929, of Mrs. Charles Brown (Pearl M. Jackson, '09, 2-yr.,) of Pompano, Florida. Mrs. Brown is survived by her husband and a daughter, Judith, 10 years of age.

SHADRACH—Miss Vera Shadrach, '21-ex, of Jackson, Ohio, died in University Hospital, Columbus, Nov. 17, 1929, from an infected heart lining, a rare ailment. Miss Shadrach attended Ohio University for two years, later completing her baccalaureate work at Ohio State University in 1921. She also studied at Western Reserve University. After graduation she taught one year each in Perrysburg and Paulding, Ohio, and for the past six years was instructor in French in the high school at Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

OBER—A letter from Mrs. Samuel Ridge (Olive Robens, '16,) tells of the death during the past summer of Mrs. Gale Ober (Adaline Curry, '08-ex,) of Chagrin Falls, Ohio. Mrs. Curry had been in ill health for two years. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Gale, Jr., and George. Mrs. Curry was a member of the earliest girls' basketball team organized at Ohio University.

SCHWEFEL—Mrs. Sella Fowler Schwefel aged 89, widow of the late Rev. Ernest W. Schwefel, who was for several years pastor of the Athens Presbyterian Church, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ellis Ames Ballard (Nina Schwefel), Philadelphia, Pa., July 11, 1929. Mrs. Schwefel was buried in Athens on July 13, funeral services being held in the church of her husband's one-time pastorate.

Additional Names for Honor Roll of Alumni Memberships Paid Up for the Current Year

Membership dues for the following persons have been received since the appearance of the Supplement to the November number of The Ohio Alumnus. All future payments will be acknowledged in the first issue of the magazine following their receipt. The asterisk (*) indicates two-year and three-year graduates.

1866 Julius S. Smith	1910 *Robert P. Ashbaugh	1918 Boyd E. Francisco Mrs. Matthew J. Walsh (Louise Gilhriese) Grace E. Wyckoff	1925 *Mary C. Holmes Robert H. Horn *Mrs. Robert H. Horn (Jean L. Campbell) Carl F. Stockdale Russell D. Tubaugh Esther J. Weir
1884 George E. De Steiguer	1911 *Mrs. W. R. Cable (Mayme B. Lash) Mary Connett Carl L. Tewksbury	1919 Walter E. Barnhill Merrill L. Dennis Mrs. John Galbreath (Helen M. Mauck)	1926 Florence Booth Charlotte C. Exley Mrs. C. A. Maekey (Gertrude Clevenger) Mrs. John Rood (Mary Frances Lawhead Irene Witham
1887 Dr. C. H. Higgins	1912 William R. Cable *Mrs. J. F. Stevens (Helen Falloon)	1920 John Galbreath *Mrs. Wm. C. Harvey (Ada Haun) *Ellis B. Hoisington Mrs. E. B. Hoisington, ex (Ruth Ickis) Harry F. Newman Mrs. R. D. Tubaugh (Helena Schwall)	1927 Alvin J. Birdsall Mrs. Blanche Goodwin *M. Ruth Hendley Oeta Kincaid
1890 H. R. McVay	1913 *Mrs. R. B. Ashbaugh (Bertha E. Buxton) Mrs. Paul M. Gillilan (Mary Evans) *Mrs. Chester Hedges (Elsie M. Strausbaugh)	1921 Ed. J. Lauterbur, ex Luella P. Pemberton Mrs. Asia H. Whitacre (Lena M. Sams)	1928 Willis H. Edmund Orville E. Hill Franklin A. Kreyger Beulah McCrory S. Nevada Nease Grace Simpson Matilda Scharf
1893 Clyde F. Beery Mrs. Katherine Goold Macartney, ex Bertha McVay S. K. Mardis John A. Shott	1914 Charles E. Skinner Mrs. Charles E. Skinner (Mary E. Shuman)	1922 Grace McGrath Neil D. Thomas Asia H. Whitacre	1929 Irma Jones *Roberta Shipley *Lois Warner
1895 Clyde Brown	1915 Frank R. Blosser Paul M. Gillilan Mary Patton Hackett	1923 *Cyrus R. Gilmore *Mrs. Orville E. Hill (Beatrice Scoey) Randolph Porter *Max Wilson Gloria M. Wysner	Non-Alumni Subscribers Mrs. Will L. Jones (Eugenia M. Liston) Constance MacLeod
1896 Mrs. Clyde Brown (Caroline Schwefel)	1916 Don O. Baird Karl M. Barth Mrs. Johnston (Frances McAuslen) Horace D. Palmer	1917 *Mrs. Barnhart (Elsie Imler) Mrs. T. A. Cojeland (Mary A. Stewart) Mary E. Hamilton Rachel J. Higgins Greta A. Lash *Mrs. D. C. Reising (Mamie Brettle)
1897 *Chalres E. Cameron	1901 Dr. H. A. Wilson	1903 James P. Wood, Jr.
1902 Dr. H. A. Wilson	1904 Fred W. Crow	1906 Ralph B. Wilson, ex
1903 *Madora Davis *Theora Davis	1908 Evelyn Adams Cora E. Hinely *Mrs. J. Frederick Brown (Nellie M. McNutt)

OHIO UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Please return this book as soon as you have finished with it. In order to avoid a fine it must be returned by the latest date stamped below.

CF

LH 1 .055 0552x v. 7-8 Oct.
1929- Apr. 1931

The Ohio alumnus.

PERIODICALS

LH 1 .055 0552x v. 7-8 Oct.
1929- Apr. 1931

The Ohio alumnus.

PERIODICALS

Southeast Ohio Regional Library Depository

ROW	RANGE	SHELF	POS	ITEM	CK
8	24	14	01	08 019	4

OHIO UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

1002282692